

RIEDEL Launches Limited-Edition Mini Decanters
Inspired by best-selling decanter range from the glassware innovators

JANUARY 2019, Glassware innovator, Riedel, has launched six limited-edition mouth-blown Mini Decanters, inspired by the company's best-selling handmade decanters produced in Kufstein.

Designed to hold half-bottles of wine, the Riedel Mini Decanters have been developed personally by Maximilian Riedel, 11th generational CEO of the luxury glassware specialist based in Austria. For years, Maximilian and his family have recognised the importance of decanting for all wines, whether red or white, young or aged, and even champagne.

Popular best-selling Riedel Decanters renowned for their exclusive design are all now available in mini versions. Designed to be both exquisite and functional, Riedel Decanters are the perfect dinner-party piece and can be found in some of the world's most iconic restaurants.

The introduction of this half-sized Mini Decanter range offers a wonderful alternative to traditional sizes designed for larger bottles. The size is perfect to drink one bottle of wine in two sittings for a perfectly decanted wine each time, and is also ideal for those with less storage.

The Mini Decanters are available at www.riedel.com and Hedonism Wines, London, The range includes The Curly Pink (RRP £325), The Cornetto (RRP £195), The Amadeo (RRP £450), The Horn (RRP £495), The Mamba (RRP £450) and The Ayam (RRP £395)

About Riedel

Riedel is a 260 year-old family-owned company, headed by Georg Riedel and Maximilian Riedel. Globally renowned for the development and manufacture of the most finely tuned drinking instruments for every level of wine sophistication, Riedel glasses are synonymous with innovation, style and exceptional functional performance. Riedel was the first to recognise that the aroma, taste, balance and finish of wines are influenced by the shape and size of the glass from which they are enjoyed and is the inventor of the Grape Varietal Specific Wine Glass.
